

DENVER'S TOP 8 INTERSECTIONS FOR TRAFFIC CRASHES

Accidents can happen anywhere, however there are some intersections that are more dangerous than others.

Here are the most dangerous intersections in Denver:

1

The combination of zoo traffic and commuter traffic leads to dangerous accidents at this intersection. During peak rush hour times, this locale handles nearly 20,000 vehicles.

2

At peak traffic times, there are nearly 20,000 cars traveling through the areas due to the suburban commuters and a popular local golf course.

3

Just over 19,000 cars travel through this intersection during peak travel times, which makes this a very dangerous driving area. This intersection is constantly influxed with vehicles, making it dangerous even during non-peak times.

4

This intersection actually used to be more of an alternate route, but it has become very well traveled, making it both congested and dangerous.

5

Most traffic experts actually rank this as the most dangerous and highly travelled intersection in all of Colorado. The constant stream of vehicles, cars, and trucks almost never ceases. Avoid this one if you can.

6

This traffic nightmare is due to traffic from I-25 and shoppers from the local big box stores. It becomes a problem especially during lunch and after work hours.

7

More than 18,000 vehicles cross this intersection during rush hour every day because it is on the way to other major intersections, making this a common scene of crashes.

8

With local strip malls and a popular I-25 exit, this intersection is best to be avoided. Avoid this intersection on weekends if you can.
