

KEANU REEVES

Shows Us His Most Prized Motorcycles

Check out this GQ video interview with Keanu Reeves as he showcases his most prized motorcycles and the custom bikes he builds at his Arch Motorcycle shop. Keanu explains how he got into motorcycles in the first place and takes us through his killer collection. <http://getmore-info.com/keanu>

One of the most interesting bikes is a specially painted green 2003 Ducati 998. It's the exact motorcycle that was used in "The Matrix Reloaded."

Reeves also discusses some of the films in which he has ridden motorcycles. He got on two wheels in the 1996 film "Chain Reaction," the 1991 film "My Own Private Idaho," and in "John Wick: Chapter 3."

"In a motorcycle, you're a little more vulnerable. So, the stakes are higher. Which I like. For me, it's the visceral quality of it. It's the vibration, the wind, the sound – and then it's just really a great place to think, to feel, to get away. When I don't ride a motorcycle, I go through withdrawal. It's not good for my health."

Check out the video to get a glimpse into the rider mindset of actor, director, producer, musician, motorcycle company co-founder, and overall cool famous guy Keanu Reeves – and see the custom-built bikes at his Arch Motorcycle facilities.

GPS TRACKERS

WHEN LOCKS & ALARMS ARE NOT ENOUGH

You've seen the statistics ... Over 45,000 motorcycles stolen each year – one every 8 minutes. It can get disheartening and alarming. Most motorcycles that are stolen are broken down into parts. July through September have twice as many thefts. The top most stolen bikes are Honda, Yamaha, Suzuki, Kawasaki, and then Harley-Davidson. Almost one in five bikes stolen are reportedly Hondas. California, Florida, and Texas experience the most motorcycle thefts, followed by North Carolina.

In addition to disc locks and alarms, we recommend adding GPS tracking devices to your arsenal of security options. The faster authorities can get more information regarding your motorcycle's theft, the greater the chances your bike is returned quickly and without damage. Installing a GPS provides alerts and location data for both you and the police. There are many types of hardware available, which allow you to install your GPS in a safe, hidden location.

GPS ADVANTAGES:

- If your bike is moved, you will get an instant text or email alert.
- A GPS map of your bike's location can be tracked on your phone.
- At a big rally event? If someone touches your ride, you'll know it.
- Have your bike in the shop? You'll know when it is being moved.
- Let a friend borrow your ride? You'll know where it is all the time.
- You can also set an alert when your ride exceeds a specific speed.

YoungChoppers.com compares several GPS trackers that are available on Amazon, along with recommendations for locks and alarms... well worth a read!

Two more products worth looking into are Monimoto, with an auto-arming paired key – and FindItNow, with Theft Recovery operators that coordinate with police to find your bike.

ALTERNATIVES: NO GPS? Stolen911.com can help you get your motorcycle listed on Google, Facebook, and social media. It has developed numerous leads to retrieve stolen motorcycles since 2007. They also provide a custom search to help find your stolen ride on Craigslist. <http://getmore-info.com/stolen>

HAVE A LAUGH!

"I DON'T REALLY FEEL LIKE GOING FOR A RIDE TODAY"

-NO MOTORCYCLE RIDER EVER

OFFICER:
"DO YOU
KNOW WHY
I PULLED YOU OVER?"

ME:
"BECAUSE I LET YOU."

An Army veteran who dresses as Deadpool, had his motorcycle stolen. His GPS tracker told him it was about 45 minutes away in northwest Houston. Police went to the scene and found a home with bike parts all over the property. The thieves were about to put a bunch of bikes together for Lone Star Rally. Deadpool is back on that very bike now after putting the parts back together. He says his story shows how placing GPS devices on valuables can pay off.

ROAD CAPTAINS Can Prevent Life Threatening Injuries

Accident Scene Management classes show Road Captains how to recognize and treat life threatening injuries along with hands-on experience until medical help arrives on the scene. With proper education and training, emergency care can begin immediately at the scene of an accident, addressing the first few critical minutes after a crash.

Many specifics of motorcycle trauma like jaw thrust rescue breathing, helmet removal, traffic control and moving the injured are not taught in First Aid and CPR. That's why these classes are so important.

First Response training for all motorcyclists significantly increases the chance that someone will be there to give a hand, in the event you or your riding buddies go down and need help.

Founding Members of the National Academy of Motorcycle Injury Lawyers show their commitment to the rider community by sponsoring and providing tuition assistance for this life-saving instruction from RoadGuardians.org.

Road Captains are encouraged to call 206-395-5454 and learn more about Accident Scene Management classes for members of your club or chapter.
